

Isobionics granted with a positive evaluation by Lux Research

21 May 2012

Isobionics is evaluated positively by Lux Research.

Positive factors are the proprietary processing techniques based on more than ten patents that Isobionics owns, having the possibility of entering agrochemical and pharmaceutical market and furthermore, the similarity with the plant derived product and therefore being a suitable replacement for the current product in the market.

All these characteristics make Isobionics a promising company with the right ingredients for being a successful spin-off.

Lux Research, Inc. is an independent research and advisory company providing strategic advice and ongoing intelligence.